

Giants and Dodgers Have Parallel Experiences, Not Scoring Until Nearly End of Day

GIANTS GO UNLESS FOR SIXTEEN INNINGS

Salles Blanks Them in Opener of Ten Rounds: Hopper Does Same for Six Periods. THEN THEY COME TO LIFE

Merkle's Hit Scores Only Two Runs of Game—Matty and Marquard on Mound.

The Giants played two games in St. Louis yesterday and broke even. McGraw's men increased their lead to nine games, as the Cardinals lost one battle with the Pirates, and drew in the other. The Brooklyn, who won and lost in Cincinnati, again tied the Boston Braves for fifth place, as the latter were outplayed at every point by the Cubs.

Yesterday's Results.
St. Louis, 1; New York, 0 (first game, ten innings).
New York, 2; St. Louis, 0 (second game, ten innings).
Cincinnati, 1; Brooklyn, 0 (first game, ten innings).
Brooklyn, 2; Cincinnati, 1 (second game, ten innings).
Philadelphia, 3; Pittsburgh, 3 (second game, ten innings).
Chicago, 4; Boston, 1.

To-day's Schedule.
New York in Cincinnati.
Brooklyn in Pittsburgh.
Philadelphia in Chicago.
Boston in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Sept. 19.—The Giants struggled along for sixteen innings, after without making a run against the Cardinals, but when they finally found the way to the plate they made enough runs to win one game. The Cardinals shut them out, 1 to 0, in the first contest, which was a pretty good form. They then rallied by shutting out the latter team in the second. The score of the latter game was 2 to 0.

For a large part of the afternoon the hitting of the Giants was very flimsy. Their batting eyes didn't sharpen up any while they were rainbowed and idle. Good pitching and admirable fielding went with the Giants' work, but the punch was lacking. They couldn't cut a run for Matty in the first game, and Hopper, a new pitcher, gave them heaps of trouble in the second.

Salles was a more effective member of the mound than Matty in the first game, although Matty was in pretty good form. That is, up to the tenth inning, when the Cardinals got to him with a sudden and incisive rush and rounded up their single tally in quick fashion. Rube Marquard held the Cardinals to three hits in the second encounter and was on in making a hit and dropping and changing pace. He didn't allow anybody to voyage to third and allowed only four wayfarers to reach first.

Marquard fanned eight men and struck out the side on something like a dozen pitched balls in the first inning. In the whole nineteen innings only one Giant struck out, the same being Meyer. However, while shy of whiffers, the Giants also were shy of hit makers. Merkle's timely single in the seventh inning of the second altercation was that interposed between New York and nineteen empty innings.

Merkle was a large, looming factor in both games. His fielding was a clinic, and he was exempt from the general batting lassitude which set in during the Salles regime. He delivered a base hit by delivering a base hit with three and two out. Defensively the Giants were as strong as they were reluctant offensively, and they were reluctant offensively, and they were reluctant offensively.

Plough Hudson to Ardsley and Back

The Cinderella, Jr., which won the 50 mile match race yesterday, aided by an eight minute handicap.

In the first six innings, Meyers opened the third with a hit, and Doyle opened the fourth with a hit. Neither went far. Easy flies or equally easy grounders marooned them. It wasn't until Hopper struck a passing fly of wildness that New York scored. Fletcher was hit in the seventh in the thigh. He stole second. Burns fouled to Snyder and Shafer fled to Whitted.

Four high pitches put Murray on first. A pitched ball wounded Chief Meyers on the wrist, and the bases were peopled. Merkle made two wild stab at curves, but stepped into the next one and strained out a single to center. Two runs dusted in, and another would have resulted from Marquard's line single over second base if Meyers had been less of a tortoise. The plodding chief was thrown out at the plate by Oakes. He didn't slide, or he would have scored.

The only time Marquard was treated harshly was in the seventh. He began by fanning Beck. Mowrey started a scorcher toward left field. Fletcher made a diagonal leap, twisted his left hand around, and the bullet imbedded itself in the palm of his glove. The feat was as appropriate as it was dazzling, for Oakes and Whitted came along with singles. Crandall was out warming up, and the Rube repelled O'Leary with a pop fly.

No more hits were made off Marquard. Fletcher killed one in the eighth by pouncing on Snyder's grounder, back of second base. Snodgrass led off in the eighth by hitting for two bases. He was still en route when the inning was over. A grounder and two lobs into the saucer shackled him to the bases. The scores:

BRANCH RICKY AFTER VETS.

Seeks Murphy or Thomas—Mickala Will Be All Right.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—Wet grounds to-day prevented the Athletics and St. Louis Browns from indulging in the final battle between the two for the season. Before leaving for Washington Branch Ricky, the new boss of the Browns, announced that he intended to adopt an entirely new policy for the future welfare of the team and that every morning the players would be requested to assemble and read the Bible. He was just as well over the previous day's mistakes and to plan for that afternoon's game.

Ricky also let it be known that he would like to have either Danny Murphy or Ira Thomas from the Athletics to help him in the uplift of the Browns, but he has slight chance of getting Mack to let either go.

The Cinderella, which lost all chance of cutting down the Yankees' handicap by being forced to stop several times.

DODGERS BREAK EVEN WITH BELATED RALLY

First Game Goes Ten Sessions and They Lose It to Reds, 1 to 0.

LAG BEHIND IN SECOND

But Daubert, Smith and Fisher Hit in Ninth and 2 to 1 Victory Results.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 19.—After being held for seven innings in to-day's double-header with the Reds, the Dodgers broke even here this season. Daubert's crowd got to Jack Rowan in the last inning of play, hammered his offerings to all parts of the field and won a pitcher's duel by a score of 2 to 1. The victors dropped the first game by a score of 1 to 0, the contest going ten innings.

In the tenth inning of the first contest the Dodgers opened with a double, stood on second while Packard fanned, then reached home with the only run of the game when Daubert cracked a single over second. It was Daubert's fourth trip to the plate and his first hit. Neither side made an error. Lefty Packard was so good and received such support that nine Brooklyn runners were left on the sacks. Rowan held the Reds hitless in the first four innings.

After the Reds had scored their lone tally in the second inning of the second contest it looked blue for the visitors. Rowan was in great form and seemed a winner. Then came the ninth. Daubert opened with a double, Smith followed with a single and Fisher scored the winning run. The scores:

Refuses to Let Tigers Hit Him in Pinches and Senators Win.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Washington won the final game of the Detroit series here this afternoon, 2 to 1, by bunting hits with errors and bases on balls in the fourth and sixth innings. Moeller scored both of Washington's runs by good base running. The Tigers batted Love hard during the seven innings he pitched, but they couldn't get him out of the game. ## WHITE SOX PRAISE CHANCE'S SPEED BOYS

Callahan Says New Yorks Have Been Strengthened Wonderfully.

POINTERS AS TO THE COLTS

Much Expected of Dode Criss, King Cole and Lefty Rose, Hurlers Just Drafted.

It was not until 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon that the final game of the series between the New Yorks and White Sox was declared off. It rained so hard in the night and early in the forenoon that the surface of the Polo Grounds was muddy, but as the weather seemed about to clear at 12 o'clock, the Sox were prepared for a game. A cold drizzle, however, soon dampened the ardor of all except the White Sox, who, being without the services of Hal Chase, were just as well pleased to be able to take an afternoon train for Boston. As the New Yorks cannot meet the White Sox again, the series is at an end, with eleven victories for Chicago and ten for New York.

Manager Callahan admitted before he left for Boston that the New Yorks were vastly stronger than in midsummer. He said that White Sox pitcher, who had been speed of Maise, Gilhooly, Whiteman and Harry Williams. Callahan also had words of praise for Bill Holden, the new center fielder. Marty McFie, the pitcher, who beat the Sox on Thursday, and, in fact, all of Chicago's new men.

George Whiteman, who jumped into the field in three days as the New Yorks' left fielder, didn't injure his ankle while sliding to a base on Wednesday. It appears that in hurrying down the stairs from the 15th street station on Monday he stumbled and fell. When he picked himself up he found that he had twisted his ankle. At first there was no pain and he assured his manager that he would make his debut the sturdy Texan forgot all about his accident. He ran the bases with speed and daring until he was about to finish the second battle of Wednesday. Then he found that the muscles in his right leg just below the knee had begun to tighten up. On Thursday he was unable to walk without a limp, and then it was that he told Chance what had happened.

Facts and figures which came to light yesterday during a fanning bee at the Polo Grounds would seem to indicate that Chance obtained by draft three useful pitchers in King Cole, Dode Criss and Charley Root, who Reynolds of the New Yorks, who caught Criss and Rose for the Houston champions this year, has these interesting things to say:

"I've seen War Johnson pitch, so I am not talking wildly when I tell you that Dode Criss has as much if not more speed than Johnson. His fast ball this year was a real stunner. He won twenty-two out of twenty-six games for Houston and his wonderful speed was largely responsible. As for Rose, he won twenty-one out of twenty-two games. He pitched and is going to be star left hander in the American League."

The Cleveland Naps will begin their last series with the Chancemen at the Polo Grounds this afternoon. They have been roughly treated in Washington, Philadelphia and Boston, but they are fighting tooth and nail to remain in second place. Birmingham and his companions will find the New Yorks are just as eager to stick to seventh position. They and Ray Caldwell of the New York Forest City team and will have all the new speed boys in the lineup.

Newark cannot lose the International League pennant if the Indians win one game out of three with Jersey City, two being scheduled for to-day. The Rochester have two games to play with Toronto, and if they win both, they will win twice as many as Newark drops two out of three, the final standing will be as follows:

Newark, 93 won, 55 lost, .612 per cent.
Rochester, 94 won, 60 lost, .610 per cent.
If Rochester breaks even, Newark can win all three games with the Skeeters and still finish on top.

Yesterday's Results.
Rochester, 3; Toronto, 2 (first game).
Rochester, 2; Rochester, 4 (second game).
Montreal, 3; Buffalo, 1 (first game).

Langford-Smith Bout On.

Tar Baby to Box Gunboat 10 Rounds in Garden Next Friday.

As the mixed bout next passed by the State Athletic Commission has been declared illegal by Attorney-General Callahan, the final game of the season between the two clubs, Larry Smith and Tar Baby, in a ten round bout in Madison Square Garden next Friday night.

Manager O'Neil of the Garden A. C. made this announcement yesterday after receiving information, it is said, that the commission would place no further obstacles in the way of the big scrap. Langford and Smith were matched two weeks ago, but when the commission considered the matter a week ago last Wednesday Chairman O'Neil surprised everybody by voting with Major Dixon to prevent the bout.

Langford's manager, Joseph Woodman, as told exclusively in last Sunday's Sun, appealed to the Attorney-General's office and was informed that the bout could not be prohibited because Langford happened to be colored. Woodman was prepared to let the matter go, but the ankle to O'Neil, who saw the handwriting on the wall, visited the Attorney-General too late and found out that the commission hadn't a leg to stand on.

NOTES OF THE GIANTS.

St. Louis, Sept. 19.—A ground ball gave Doyle a shock on the ankle to-day. It made him squirm and caused him to lose the bat.

Each game was played in an hour and a half, which suited the Giants, who they had to make a train to Cincinnati.

Victories are not coming very fast for Merkle. He has lost four of his last seven starts, but has run into a new pitcher, who has lost four of the starts was the disputed Philadelphia game.

Murray came within an ace of throwing out another man on a hit to right field. He was just as well over the previous day's mistakes and to plan for that afternoon's game.

"Pretty soft, Larry," yelled a fan to Merkle, who was seen through a pantomime of hunting world's series money. Shafer is hunting poorly on this trip, having been out with the season since leaving Pittsburgh.

Toronto Club May Train With Giants

TORONTO, Sept. 19.—When the Toronto club of the International League goes south in the spring for training grounds it may head for Marlin, Tex. It is reported that the Toronto management contemplates doing its spring work at Marlin Springs with the New York Giants. It is stated also that Manager McGraw of the Giants has invited the locals there, believing probably that thereby he will be able to look over a number of promising young ball players at first hand and also will find it possible to have better practice games with more men around.

REICH NO MATCH FOR EXPERIENCED MORRIS

Oklahoma Giant Stops Former Amateur Champion in Second Round.

Another white hope was exploded in Madison Square Garden last night, when Al Reich, former amateur heavyweight champion, was knocked out cold in the second round by Carl Morris, the Oklahoma giant. Reich looked like a Hercules, but inwardly he was scared when he climbed into the ring, and at the end it looked as if he had quit rather than take his medicine. The persons who told Reich that he was cut out for a ring career stood near at hand, looking on in open mouthed astonishment as their idol lay on the floor, with his face buried in his arms and while Referee John Counted out the seconds.

The general verdict of 3,500 spectators was that Reich never should have been allowed to meet such an experienced brawler as Morris. From the moment that they stood up, the fight was over. Morris had the softest kind of a snap. The Oklahoma Giant for that matter, stripped in fine shape, scaling at 235 pounds, a little less than Reich, who was with his improved cleverness. He worried the former amateur in the first round with a number of clean, straight lefts, which made Reich wobble. Reich tried to hit Morris as hard as he could, but he found that he was unable to make the giant wobble. Reich's jab and the heavy right into his shell and blocked Morris's attack as best he could until the round ended.

Reich was thinking of home and mother when he came up for the second round. He received a crashing left hander squarely in the face and responded with a few body blows that made Morris grin. Reich toyed with his deluded opponent until he drew him into a lead, then he shot in a powerfully delivered smash with his right hand squarely to the point of Reich's jaw and the latter fell. Reich hesitated for a moment, but when the referee finished the count, so Morris picked him up bodily and helped him to a chair. Reich was so dazed that he couldn't see and soon he was on his way to the dressing room, evidently resolved to avoid the pugilistic game in future. Morris caught Reich's arm as he tried to leave the ring. He appears to have picked up many pointers as to clever ring tactics.

Tommy Barker of Philadelphia outpointed Frankie Corcoran of this city in the first round bout. Buck weighed 125 pounds and Corcoran one pound less. Buck forced the pace all the way.

Reich's jaw and the latter's head were heaped. He had not moved when the referee finished the count, so Morris picked him up bodily and helped him to a chair. Reich was so dazed that he couldn't see and soon he was on his way to the dressing room, evidently resolved to avoid the pugilistic game in future. Morris caught Reich's arm as he tried to leave the ring. He appears to have picked up many pointers as to clever ring tactics.

Montreal a Double Winner.

BUFAFO, Sept. 19.—Montreal took a double fall out of the Bisons to-day. Smith and Mattern were the winning twirlers. The scores:

FIRST GAME.
Montreal, 4; Buffalo, 1.
Buffalo, 4; Montreal, 1.
Batteries—Smith and Mattern; Main, Jamieson and Mattern.

SECOND GAME.
Montreal, 4; Buffalo, 1.
Buffalo, 4; Montreal, 1.
Batteries—Mattern and Howley; Jamieson and La Longue.

Dick Able Helps Amherst.

AMHERST, Mass., Sept. 19.—Dick Able, former star quarterback, joined Coach Hobbs to-day to assist him in getting the Amherst team into shape. Able has charge of the second team. Coach Hobbs is planning to start regular scrimmages directly. Swavey, the end, reported for post first practice to-day and was put on the second team. He probably will be shifted to the first team before long.

ROCHESTER'S HOPES ARE SLIM.

ROCHESTER, Sept. 19.—Rochester and Toronto divided a double header here this afternoon, the Hustlers winning the opener, 3 to 2, and the Leafs taking the good night performance, 4 to 0. In the second game Game held the Hustlers to two singles and walked one. These three were the only ones to see first.

With to-day's defeat Rochester's pennant has become dim. To win the flag they must defeat Toronto twice in tomorrow's double header and Newark must lose its three scheduled games with Jersey City. The scores:

FIRST GAME.
Rochester, 3; Toronto, 2.
Toronto, 4; Rochester, 0.
Batteries—Maxwell, Kent and Brown; Hughes and Goss.

SECOND GAME.
Rochester, 3; Toronto, 2.
Toronto, 4; Rochester, 0.
Batteries—Gaw and Brown; Keefe and Jacklight.

Lafayette Squad Promising.

EASTON, Pa., Sept. 19.—Sixty-five players have reported for the Lafayette football team. They are a promising college squad. Yesterday the squad had two afternoon work on March Field.

CINDERELLA CAN'T CUT HANDICAP OF GUNFIRE

Forced to Stop Several Times and Finally Is Beaten by Her Rival.

The Cinderella, Jr., defeated the Cinderella in a match race yesterday afternoon over the thirty mile course of the Columbia Yacht Club. The Cinderella finished 2 minutes 15.3 seconds ahead of the Gunfire, but according to the conditions the Cinderella had to allow eight minutes, so that the Gunfire won the race with 5 minutes 44.2 seconds to spare.

This race was the outcome of some good natured banter in which James Simpson, who built the Cinderella, said he would beat the Gunfire, Jr., owned by W. J. Brainerd, four miles over a course of thirty miles. The prize was a stake subscribed by the owners of the boats and a dinner for fourteen to be served in the Columbia Yacht Club, at the foot of West Eighty-sixth street.

James Simpson handled the Cinderella, assisted by the Marcellus McLean, as mechanic. On the Gunfire, Jr., were H. W. Patterson, helmsman, and Al Henkeloff, mechanic. The start was made
